On-Line Professional Development

Looking for exciting professional development activities? The on-line professional development courses were such a hit last year that we'll be offering even more on-line courses this year. If there are some topics you would like to see, please let me know. Watch for up-coming information on the new courses.

Web Site of the Week:

I heard so many positive comments about last week's fall activity web sites! This week I have a great resource for Halloween activities compiled by Jan Ross, the Library Media Specialist and Co-School Technology Coordinator at Dixie Elementary. Jan has so many links and activities, that you can really spend a lot of time at this site. Until I saw Jan's site, I never knew that Ben and Jerry's Ice Cream has a wonderful site for kids.
